Having remained after regular school hours for a specially called meeting of the Y-Teens executive council, Nancy Gray, a Senior, slowly waks through the deserted main hall of Baytown High after an exhausting day of school.

We Pledge Allegiance also

The crowded halls of Raytown High School overflow with sixteen hundred students frantically rushing from class to class in a constantly changing ebb of emotions. The school expands; its inhabitants change yearly, yet, the sea of faces—some smiling, some frowning, some searching, all merge within a time-worn school that has encompassed thousands of students in the past and has etched remembrances in the minds of each.

Raytown students clamor through halls and shuffle downstairs as ambitions lead them to their distinctive goals and their interests lead them to different of success and failure; happiness and sorrow, we all cling together as humanity seeks the companionship with humanity. Though interests separate us and ambitions divided us, the ever present swelling warmth of pride for Raytown High School unites us.

When each of us separates to pursue his own plans for the future, still within us will remain a common bond that will outlast the crumbling of an aging building. We have become a part of Raytown High School and the ties of fellowship and loyalty manifested will live in our memories forever.

Leading the Pep Squad at atbletic events throughout the year, the 1968 cheerleaders, Peggy Moad, Beth Pendleton, Pam Stalcup, Shirley Houk, Paula Welch, and Linda Adee, surround the Raytown Bluejay mascot, Marilyn Allen.

Students Understanding of Life Abroad

The Students and Faculty at Raytown High School were greatly rewarded through the foreign exchange students. For the first time this year, RHS was fortunate in having two students from foreign countries Juan Cruz, from Chile, was sponsored by the American Field Service program. From Germany, Fberhardt Stahl came to Raytown through the Methodist Church

Again this year, Raytown High School invited the foreign exchange students from several area high schools to visit at RHS for a day. In the morning each AFS student spoke to the student body about his country Then each of them attended various classes

There were several projects during the year to earn money to support the foreign exchange students. The entire student body participated in the magazine sale which was their chief means of support. Members of Kev Club sold "Bells for Peace" to the community at Christmas to aid AFS

Pennants were sold, names were put on the books, and a teentown was held to help Ramizzou meet the expenses of production

The girls' physical education program was widely diversified with activities included to interest almost every girl.

The year began with field hockey and, as cold weather made outside sports no longer possible, the indoor sports began. Included were basketball, volleyball, badminton, shuffle board, tumbling, trampoline, and table tennis.

As the year drew to a close and the weather grew warmer, archery, track, and softball were the interests of the girls.

The Sophomore Basketball Team showed great promise this year, ending their season with a record of fourteen wins and only two losses

These boys were new to the school and were led by Coach Craig, a new addition to the faculty, but both showed themselves to be far from new at the game of basketball

The team had five boys move up to the Junior Varsity and Varsity Squads. But even with these losses the sophomores' skill pulled them through with a fine record

We Move Forward With Ties of Loyalty

"United by ties of fellow-ship and loyalty "Though each student at Raytown had his own individual interests, we were all bound together by one inseparable tie—Raytown High School. The club meetings, the games, the pep rallies, the homecomings, the dances, the Prom. the friends that have been made—all of these things have linked us to Raytown High School. The clasped hands signify this lasting bond with Raytown and all the memories it holds for us

"We move forward beneath the blue and white." After graduation, the seniors will go on to college or to jobs or some to the service, yet all will hold a certain pride when they hear the name Raytown. The juniors will become seniors, the sophomores will become "research paper" juniors, and a new class of sophomores will enter the doors of Raytown and will be embedded in its spirit

The 1968 RAMIZZOU staff would like to express their thanks to all those who have devoted their time and effort to the publication of this year-book
